CHAMP CLARK GETS THE NEW HAMPSHIRE DELEGATES

Go Uninstructed, But Pledged to Him
--Biggest Democratic Convention for Years.

Concord, May 14.—The Democratic Convention for the election of delegates to the National Convention at Baltimore, went on record as being favorable for Champ Clark for president, although the delegates were not specifically instructed to that effect, all of the delegates elected were, however, known to be favorable to Clark.

The convention following an extremely "tight before," was the liveliest democratic convention for a great many years. There was a large crowd of spectators and the greatest number of delegates for 20 years.

List of Convention Officers.

At 11:40 a. m., John B. Jameson, chairman of the State Committee, called the convention to order. This was 45 minutes later than the advertised hour. After a few remarks he called upon Robert Murchie, secretary of the State Committee, who read a list of convention officers.

JAMES TUTTLE ARRESTED FOR MANCHESTER POLICE

Charged With Larceny of Money and Checks from His Employers

Jason Tuttle of Manchester, Mass., was arrested here by Officer Shannon at a request of the chief of police of that town. Tuttle is charged with larceny of money and checks from the estate of J. B. town. He left Manchester for this city with $305 in money and checks amounting to $190. On his arrival

AID RENDERED BY ISLES OF SHOALS LIFE SAVERS

Captain Cummings and the crew of the Isles of Shoals life saving station have rendered timely aid to two disabled crafts the present week. On Sunday the gasoline seiner Beatrice E. of Newburyport, broke her crank shaft two miles off Appledore island and was disabled. Her plight was seen by Captain Cummings and she was towed by the large motor boat attached to the station to Newburyport.

On Monday the steam launch Iris from Boothbay Harbor for Marblehead in charge of two men named Day and Forsythe, became disabled off the islands and was towed to Appledore where the crew of the station assisted in getting the engine in working order so that the craft was able to proceed on her journey on the following day.

Situated as it is, ten miles off the mainland, the Isles of Shoals station cannot help being of incalculable benefit to shipping of all kinds.

here he sent back the checks to the firm which led to his arrest. He later engaged a room and started out to see the city. He purchased a $25 watch and some new clothing. He first changed his appearance by shaving off his mustache. The police had hardly got the description of Tuttle when Officer Shannon ran into him on Congress street. He started to get away but found it was no use. While on the way to the police station he admitted he was Tuttle and that he took the money. When searched $120 of the money was found on his person. The Manchester police took him back this afternoon.

Isles of Shoals mackerel, cod and lobsters. We deliver to all parts of the city. Tel. 615, H. A. Clark & Co.

Ohio the Great Political Battleground In Anticipation of the Primaries on May 21.

Photos of Roosevelt, Harmon and La Follette by American Press Association. Photo of Taft by Moffett.

The political eyes of the country are now focused on Ohio, where the primaries will be held on May 21. On the Republican side President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt and Senator La Follette are touring the state, the president being scheduled to make more than 100 speeches. On the Democratic side Governor Harmon and William J. Bryan are campaigning, the former in his own interest and the latter calling upon the voters to vote for either Clark or Wilson.

NEW BUILDING URGED FOR CHASE HOME FOR CHILDREN

Annual Report States That Present Quarters Are Inadequate and Poorly Furnished

The urgent need of a new location the home during the past year, and a new building for the Portsmouth Chase Home for Children is expressed in the annual report just issued. The treasurer's report expressed the present quarters are inadequate according to the report, and situated in an unwholesome locality. While the home has a sizable fund this account is sold not to be sufficient to undertake the construction of a new building.

The new home proposition is that of the late Mrs. J. Neal, $180; estate of trustees: "The present home is old, Lehigh S. Freeman, $1250; Portsmouth small and in many ways unsuitable for the purpose of the home. It is becoming less desirable and more objectionable every year, and the yard for outdoor exercise and play is inadequate. The desirability and need of such a building is becoming more and more apparent. The expense of running the home location which could be obtained during the year was $2900.96, which has not been found. The present was approximately $3 less than the condition of the funds would not income from various sources. The permit both the purchase of a lot, highest item of expense were the location and the immediate construction salaries paid officials, the purchase of a suitable building. Therefore, of provisions and for incidentals the trustees appeal for additional as required in the care of children. Of assistance for the purpose of carrying the income for current expenses forward this greatly needed improve $254.20 was paid by the members of the children in the home, $684.06. In the report it is shown that, was paid by Rockingham county, and twentythree children have been in approximately $400 was received.

NEW HAMPSHIRE NATIONAL BANK WINS ITS CASE

At the law term of the supreme court held in Concord on Tuesday a decision was handed down in the action of the city of Portsmouth vs. the New Hampshire National Bank for alleged encroachment on the city's land, in favor of the bank. The decree follows:

Portsmouth v. Bank

Decree in equity. The city directed its solicitor to dismiss this bill and instructed the mayor to see that it was marked judgment for the defendant. The court made a decree dismissing the bill in accordance with the city's request. Transferred by Wallace, C. J., on the solicitor's bill of exception.

Samuel W. Query, Jr., pro se.
Edwin G. Eastman, John W. Keeney and Calvin Page, for the defendant.

Young J. The city solicitor has no standing in this case for he is not acting for the city but in defiance of its wishes. That is, he is here, not for the purpose of doing what the city instructed him to do, but to prevent the city from doing it.

Exception overruled.
All concurred.

NAVY YARD STATION IS BROKEN INTO

The Navy Yard Station on the York Harbor and Beach branch of the Boston and Maine railroad, was entered on Tuesday night, also a section house on the line a short distance from the depot.

The entrance was gained by breaking a glass of a rear window. After getting into the waiting room the lock on the door of one ticket-office was smashed and the office ransacked. Finding no money the burglars then broke open several dress suit cases and scattered the contents about the floor of the station. The agent reports no tickets missing and is unable to say what was taken from the baggage. From the section house some clothing of the workmen is all that is reported missing.

CONVENTION WILL RATIFY AGREEMENT

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 14.—The tri-district convention of the United Mine Workers, called to consider the tentative agreement drawn up by the sub-committee of four miners and four operators, which was rejected by the executive boards of the three anthracite districts, began here today with a full representation of delegates from every local union in the hard coal fields. A majority of the delegates are uninterested.

There is a feeling among the men that the agreement will be ratified. A former national board member said:

"National President White and the three district presidents, after negotiating for more than a month with the operators, got the best terms they could and accepted them, and it is now up to the men to back up their leaders."

The members of the executive boards of the three districts were in session at the miners' headquarters until early this morning. It is known that they decided to report the tentative agreement to the convention without recommendation. President White attended the meetings and gave his views. He was ill in the west when their meeting in New York on May 2 was held.

The convention will last several days and as the agreement is not satisfactory to many of the miners, it is expected there will be a warm debate.

It is probable that President White, who will preside, and District Presidents Dempsey, Kennedy and Fahley will remain silent until all delegates who care to speak have been heard. Then they are expected to give their views, and the advice a majority of these leaders will give will be in all likelihood be followed by the delegates.

NEWINGTON

Byron Stoyford, who has returned from Sanford where he has passed a few days packing up his effects, will now reside at the old homestead with his brother, Joseph Stoyford.

All relatives and friends of Mrs. Frances Staples were grieved to hear of her death, which occurred in Greenland last Thursday at the home of Mr. George Coleman. Mrs. Staples' home was in this town, and none who knew her well can ever forget her cheery ways. She had her full share of troubles and sorrow and even during her own long and painful sickness every day was so sanctified that her life was always sunny. Until her health failed her over two years ago she was an active member of the Congregational church and the members, and also those of the different societies to which she belonged and with whom she so effectively and earnestly cooperated, will cherish her fragrant memory for those who knew her could not fail but esteem her.

Owing to her health growing worse she decided to leave her home to leave her beloved home town about eighteen months ago and take up her residence with her sister in law in Greenland, who has tenderly cared for the invalid during her long and painful sickness and administered faithfully to every want and comfort. She is survived by a brother and sister and two grandchildren besides nieces and nephews to mourn her loss.

The funeral of Mrs. Staples occurred at the church on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Smith officiating. The church was filled with relatives and friends to pay the last sad respects to the memory of the deceased, and the many beautiful floral offerings attested to the love and affection in which she was held.

The words of the pastor were praiseworthy of the womanly virtues of the deceased, and the members of Pleasantville Grange performed their ceremony at the grave. Interment was made in the family lot in the cemetery.

Miss Anna Cushing of Little Harbor, Portsmouth, attended the funeral of Mrs. Staples on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Charles Staples and Dr. Byron Staples of Portsmouth attended the funeral of their relatives on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Alva Ross and daughter were the guests of her mother, Mrs. Harriet Hoyt on Sunday.

HAMPTON

Mr. George Laquize of Boston, Mass., entertained a large party of friends at Delancy House at Hampton Beach over Sunday, taking their meals at Whittier's.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher S. Toppan and their son Gratton spent Sunday with relatives in West Newbury, Mass.

Mr. William H. Carter of Salem, Mass., has opened his cottage at the beach for the summer.

The Baptist church had a supper in the dining room on Friday. Cake, aprons and candy were for sale. They netted about $20.

Misses Bernice Seales, Lola Steward and Helen Holt attended the dancing party in Griffin Hall on Thursday evening, given by the New Hampton Business school.

Mr. James De Lancy is to entertain the H. T. G. and their friends at the beach on May 24th.

Miss Julia Lick spent Sunday in town with her mother.

Mr. Carl Perkins was home over Sunday.

Miss Perkins of Newburyport, Mass., is spending a few weeks with Mrs. B. F. Perkins.

Mrs. Thomas Perkins has arrived at her summer home.

Mr. Freeman Williams is spending a few days in Waltham, Mass., with his son Myron.

Mr. Lewis Perkins spent Tuesday in Boston.

At Whittier's on Saturday the P. E. A. students entertained their lady friends by giving a dinner and dance. Mrs. Durrant of Haverhill, Mass., was one of the chaperons.

On Monday Misses Ida Merrill and Mary Toppan and Miss Toppan's niece, Anna Batchelder, were guests of Mrs. Mary Riley of Haverhill. Mrs. Riley's daughter Ruth entertained a party of friends in honor of her ninth birthday.

Mrs. Knight of Exeter was the guest of her father, Mr. Mason, at "Echo" on Tuesday.

There was considerable disappointment that the cruiser Washington did not remain here for repairs at the yard. The work was never more needed.

Liverpool Sold for $2,250.
Liverpool, which has decided to spend three millions on dock extensions, was once the property of the city of London. Centuries ago the city corporation advanced to the crown the sum of $1,850,000, and in discharge of the debt the fee simple of some three hundred manors and estates was conveyed to the corporation. Among them was the lordship of Liverpool, "with all customs, anchorage and tolls of the waters of the Mersey," and "all the manorial, seigniorial and regal rights" of the town and lordship of Liverpool. But the city fathers of those days did not know a good investment when they had it, and this lordship and rights, from which an annual income of many millions is now derived, were sold to Lord Maryborough for the sum of $2,250.—London Chronicle.

Keeping on the Go.
It is as much a part of our whole duty to ourselves to rest sometimes as it is to work. The law of rest is as imperative as the law of labor. If any kind of machine is run all the time it soon wears out, and this is true of the human machine as of any other. The women who accomplish most in the world are the ones who have the wisdom to rest, if it is only five or ten minutes at a time; who relax and "let go." We tell ourselves that we have no time to rest, that we must keep going, for we have so much to do and the end of toil is never in sight. But if we were to pause and draw breath even in the thickest press and stress of the day we would work faster and better for it afterward and accomplish more and feel better.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Ridiculous.
Edgar A. Brown, the Denver millionaire who is writing a book about his two years' voluntary experiment as an "out-of-work," said the other day: "One trouble about poverty is that it makes you ridiculous. You need shaving, your trousers are fringed at the ends, your coat has a hole in the elbow. Yes, to be poor is ridiculous—as ridiculous as being misquoted in the press." Mr. Brown laughed gently. "A friend of mine," he said, "was misquoted in the press last week. My friend, in a sociological address, said: 'Whisky makes men genial for a time.' But his favorite paper reported this remark as: 'Whisky makes me genial for a time.'"
—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Traced Through Lost Skin.
A clever bit of detective work, quite worthy of the nimble wit of a Sherlock Holmes, came to light in Poole, Dorsetshire, England, the other day, at the trial of a man convicted of house breaking. When the house which had been broken into was visited by the police, they found a piece of skin half an inch long and a quarter of an inch wide on a broken window pane. Acting upon this clue alone, they arrested a man a day or so later, in a common lodging house, the piece of skin fitting a gap in his thumb, and the skin markings being almost identical.

The Incas.
Recent writers have obliged us to radically change our views concerning the ancient inhabitants of Mexico and Peru. If you will read what John Fiske has to say of the civilization of those two peoples at the time they were found by Cortez and Pizarro you will find that the works of Prescott are no longer of much use to you. Fiske, in his "Discovery of America," shows that the civilization of these peoples was not by any means the thing we were some years ago taught to think it was. It was civilization, but simply a higher form of barbarism.

Looked That Way.
One morning a man walked into his club smiling and said: "B-b-boys, I'm afraid I t-t-took m-more wine last n-n-night than a ch-ch-church member should t-t-take." "Why so?" said one of his friends. "Well, you s-s-see, this m-m-morning, when I c-c-came to b-b-breakfast my wife s-s-said to me: 'William, what was the m-m-matter with you last n-n-night? You stood beside the b-b-bed for some time l-l-looking at me and finally s-s-said: 'Well, I s-s-swear, you two girls look enough alike to-to-be sisters.'"
—Ladies Home Journal.

Darkening Mexican Clocks.
Residents of Guanajuato, says the Mexican Herald, have complained to the ayuntamiento against the practice of putting out the lights that illumine the faces of the public clocks after 10 o'clock in the evening and they have requested the inspector of clocks to take into consideration that they are unable to ascertain the time after that hour because the lights are turned off at 10 o'clock sharp.

Unlike Some Platform Orators.
Lola, aged four, was present at dinner one evening when a number of guests were being entertained by her parents, and during a lull in the conversation she began to talk very earnestly. "Why do you talk so much, Lola?" asked her father. "Cause I've got something to say," was the innocent reply.

No Objections.
"Yes, sir; I can marry you and the girl, all right, but I am not a regular pastor. I'm a traveling preacher." "Suits me all the better; I'm a traveling man."

MIRACLE OF SLUMBER

BEST OF ALL MEDICINES, AS WELL AS CHEAPEST.

American Nervousness, So Prevalent a Complaint, is Charged to the Habit of Doing Without Sufficient Natural Rest.

The railroad man who had been 36 hours without sleep was good natured about it, though it was evident that he was verging on a nervous condition that might well render him incompetent. There is an occasional person who can dispense with sleep in an astonishing manner, the New York Mail observes. Yet it is not certain that such persons really do escape the penalty. It has been asserted that Napoleon's later failures of judgment were the result of an unvarying that followed his earlier "four hours enough" sleep, which he boasted and practiced.

It is being said by medical observers that the "American nervousness" is not a little attributable to the social day demand, the hours after business, directly cut down from the sleep segment of the 24 hour day. It is probably true that no other country is so exacting on the full business day. That we insist on it must begin promptly and early. But the social demand is quite as imperative. Shall not a man go out with his wife in the evening, after she had been left alone all day?

She is quite ready. She took a nap after lunch, at the very hour he was busiest downtown. The church is run by the evening meetings. So is politics. And it may be said that we spend our money mostly in the evening, except what the women spend in the shops. Can a man take time for sleep when he is spending his money? No more than when he is earning it. The result is that there is always a lack of sleep.

There is no medicine like sleep. There is such a miracle wrought by sleep, changing our fears into hopes, our despondency into courage, our thickheadedness into clear vision, that it is shameful to put sleep aside. The wine of longest vintage cannot illuminate the soul like a full night's sleep, and the wine is so costly and the sleep so cheap! The high cost of living has touched about everything, but it has not raised the price of sleep.

We have all made so many blunders by decisions when the windows of the mind were darkened by fatigue that we should learn the lesson. It is sleep that wipes away the mists. Teach the children the value of sleep. Insist on "early to bed." Get back to the Puritan habit, which certainly made giants. There is too much going on evenings for the children. It is very largely the cause of the "social unrest" of which we complain—too little sleep twenty years ago and since.

Blame "Bunty" for This One.

Ever since "Bunty" came to town to pull a few strings Scotch stories have been in the air hereabouts, says the New York Times Star. This is told by John Dunsmore, who has a Highland ancestry as well as a Highland name. "It was a hot Sunday afternoon in Edinbro," said Dunsmore. "The kirk was full of men and women as the preacher thundered. But by and by they all dropped off to sleep except one simple-minded boy seated in the organ loft."

"A stiff-necked and perversive generation," shouted the minister. "Ye'er feet ha' ta'en hold on the road that leads down to hell. Ye'er eyes are blinded and ye'er ears are deaf, and ye'er flesh is o'en gien over to the Evil One, for there is not ony of you all in this house of worship that is not asleep, exceptin' for the bit ladie in the organ loft."

"Ye're richt, pairson," said that individual in reply, "and I'd be asleep myself if I were not daft."

Utilizing the Castle.

One of the young men attached to the American embassy at London brought back with him a story that has to do with a feature of the Dufferin estate, near Belfast—a historic ruin in the shape of a castle that had been a stronghold of the O'Neills.

It appears that one day Lord Dufferin visited it with his steward, one Mulligan, and that he drew a line with his walking-stick round it, at the same time instructing the steward to build a protecting wall on that line. Then Dufferin went to the continent, feeling quite secure as to the preservation of the historic feature. Upon his return to Ireland he visited the estate. The castle was gone. He rubbed his eyes and looked again. Then he sent for Mulligan. "Where's the castle?" he asked.

"The castle, me lord? Sure, I pulled it down to build the wall with."

Germans Buy Nothing on Credit.

"People in Germany have much more money to spend than here in America, even though the ratio of population there is much greater than in the United States," said William R. Steffway, just before sailing for Germany the other day.

"The German way is to pay cash for what one can afford, and there is absolutely no such thing as living beyond one's means, as we do here. Moreover, there are very clearly defined class distinctions, recognized by the people themselves, who never dream of trying to go above their station."

RICHESON NOW IN THE DEATH HOUSE

Experts Report to Gov. Foss That He is Sane--Practically All Hopes Given Up.

Boston, May 14.—Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, the self-confessed slayer of Miss Avis Linnell, was taken to the state prison death house at 3.21 this afternoon there to await the execution of his sentence, some time during the week of May 19.

Richeson was transferred in a closed van, and he took his transfer as the indication that there was no hope left for Governor Foss changing his sentence to life imprisonment. From now until early Monday morning when he will be taken to the chair, he will never be out of sight of one or more of the guards.

It became known this afternoon at the State House that the report of Dr. L. Vernon Briggs shows that while Clarence V. T. Richeson, the self-confessed murderer of Miss Avis Linnell, probably was responsible under the law for his acts when he poisoned his former fiancée and when he made his confession, he is so abnormal mentally that his case is most puzzling.

There is reason to believe that had there been a law providing for the confinement of degenerates, as is proposed, Richeson might have been kept in an asylum for the past two years. The report is said to show that the murderer is beyond doubt a degenerate in several ways.

Richeson had spells resembling cataplexy, which were induced by strong emotions or nervous shocks, and for some time after them he probably was far from normal. Even for a few hours before one of these spells would become evident to the casual observer he would be coming more and more under its effects, form any act while under one of these fits, it is evident that he was not in his right mind. When the spell really was on, the subject was unconscious or semi-conscious.

As Richeson was unable to protect himself in that condition when he murdered Miss Linnell, when he confessed to that crime or when he pleaded in court.

The question raised by Dr. Briggs' report is the rather puzzling one of just where the law draws the line between a man who is legally "sane" and one who is not. Of course, the intent of the law is to protect society, and on this basis the man's ability to know right and wrong and to follow either course is the deciding factor. This would indicate that Richeson is responsible for his acts, and if the report of the alienists' commission coincides with that of Dr. Briggs there is little likelihood of the murderer being saved.

Should the Commission coincide with Dr. Briggs' views there would seem to be little chance that Governor Foss would refer the plea for commutation of the death sentence to the Executive Council. The governor, nevertheless, may decide to get the Council's views, because of the puzzling legal situation, which qualifies Dr. Briggs' findings in a measure.

MICHIGAN LEADS

Records for General Practice Based on Records for the Year.

With the best average score for all forms of gun practice, the battle ship Michigan, in command of Captain Edward E. Capehart, leads the Atlantic fleet for the gunnery trophy for the present year. As the Michigan already flies the little red "bat" efficiency pennant for the best showing in gunnery and engineering competitions last year, her work at target practice so far bids fair to enable her to keep this much cherished trophy. The scores for gunnery worked out by Lieutenant Commander Thomas T. Craven, director of target practice and engineering competitions, and his assistants, are based on the battle target practice held last month off the Chesapeake Capes, together with the night firing and torpedo practice held earlier in the year by the fleet at Guantanamo.

Here are the records: The Michigan, final merit, 59,507; the Utah (Captain William S. Benson), 56,878; the Delaware (Captain John Hoop), 50,381; the Virginia (Captain John D. McDonald), 50,178; the North Dakota (Captain Henry B. Wilson), 47,510; the New Hampshire (Captain James H. Oliver), 47,124; the New Jersey (Captain Frank W. Kellogg), 46,880; the Ohio (Captain Wilson W. Buchanan), 45,240; the Rhode Island (Captain Hilary P. Jones), 45,038; the Maryland (Captain John M. Elliott), 43,070; the Connecticut (Captain Hugh Rodman), 38,319; the Louisiana (Captain Roger Welles), 36,579; the North Carolina (Captain Charles C. Marsh), 32,641; the Mississippi (Captain William J. Maxwell), 31,024; the Kansas (Captain John A. ## Bradley of the Boston Americans One of Season's Big Surprises

Boston, May 15.—Bradley, the now recovered, says he intends to remain on the bench and let Bradley continue to play for base. And Stahl, by the way, is one of the best first basemen in the American league. It is unusual to see a manager who is a star himself giving up a position to a youngster, but the Red Sox leader is the younger was shifted to first. Daniel Davis, a well known right hand from the start he played a grand game—in fact, Stahl, who has

RELEASED AFTER 16 MONTHS.

Richmond H. Ingersoll, Pardoned Biddeford Bank Embezzler, Leaves York Jail for Home.

Alfred, Me., May 14.—Richmond H. Ingersoll of Biddeford, who was pardoned last Wednesday by Gov. Plaisted and the Council, was released from the County Jail yesterday after having served 16 months of a sentence of two years for embezzlement of funds of the York County Savings Bank of Biddeford, of which he was treasurer about 50 years.

The bank was closed Aug. 10, 1910, and a deficiency of about $336,600 was discovered, but Mr. Ingersoll was sentenced on an indictment for the misappropriation of $300, to which he pleaded not guilty. Three other indictments for $1000

each were continued.

The severity of the proceedings against Ingersoll was probably lessened by the finding of Bank Examiner Skelton that several years previous a shortage of about $193,000 had been suffered on account of poor investments.

In arguing for pardon counsel called attention to the fact that $193,000 at 4 percent compound interest would amount equal $336,000, making it evident, counsel claimed, that Ingersoll continued to pay 4 percent on these investments, altering his accounts accordingly.

WATER NOW RECEEDING.

Crest of the Mississippi Flood is Passing Out Through the Gateway of the River.

New Orleans, May 14.—The crest of the disastrous Mississippi flood is passing out through the gateway of the river, 90 miles south of New Orleans, into the gulf. At least the river gage readings indicate as much. For 72 hours ending at 7 a. m., today not a single Government gage between New Orleans and St. Louis has recorded a rise, whereas at most points a receding stage was shown.

The special bulletin issued today by the Weather Bureau, however, forecasts a continuance of the danger stage throughout the month of May.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1912

The New York Tribune says to think that waiters should strike about their wages! It was supposed that they could afford to be indifferent to everything but their this.

The Boston & Maine railroad contemplates extensive improvements at the summit of Mount Washington. By the way, has anyone heard anything about the new railroad station and bridge that Portsmouth was to have built some time ago?

A special from Washington says that the members of the Senate judiciary committee are almost unanimously in favor of proposing constitutional amendment limiting presidency to single term of six years, as well as changing existing law so that President and House of Representatives, chosen in November, shall be sworn into office on first Monday in January.

The Philadelphia Press says when a baseball game is going on in Washington it seems next to impossible to maintain a quorum in the House of Representatives, and it is more than usually difficult just now from the fact that the Washington club of the American League is making a rather brave showing in the percentage tables.

Congress has reported a bill making it unlawful to send an interstate message offering to enter into any contract for purchase or sale for future delivery of wheat, oats or corn without intending that such grain shall be actually delivered or received. Bill affects business in grain aggregating $2,500,000,000 in value, and would be serious blow to Chicago wheat pits.

Advices from Washington say that the progressive republican senators held a meeting, recently and decided to oppose an adjournment of Congress until after votes have been had on the four principal tariff bills relating to wool, cotton, metals and sugar. They also agreed to oppose any recess of Congress on account of the national conventions and to insist on a vote on the tariff case.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS.

Entirely opposed to the benevolence of the Red Cross Society, is the double cross movement in current politics.

When Gov. Harmon discusses political history Mr. Bryan is almost tempted to revive the Ananias club.

The state has finished with the presentation of Floyd Allen's case and not a shot has been fired.

Jacrez must lose for the day when it can organize a board of trade and boom legitimate business.

The Chicago Sunday Tribune has had only twelve pages, owing to the strike, but as the "Herald" supplement was gotten out, the demands of Chicago's thinkers were satisfied.

Under the circumstances it would not do, even if rooms were short, for any of those Ohio hotel clerks to assign Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt to share the same sleeping apartment.

Some of the stories that creep in to print would make it look as if a sheepish politician, who lately required a few wicked and enigmatic friends in the background.

The figures mentioned in the alleged Archibald deal seem rather small for a transaction among Pennsylvania shareholders.

Washington lawyers played base ball at their annual shoo-bake and managed to make the game as interesting as the arguments over technical decisions.

It is not easy to pick out the trusts that have dissolved by searching the market quotations for decreases in prices.

A St. Louis woman who has worn a 76-cent hat for three years is receiving all kinds of proposals for marriage. It pays some women to be economical.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES.

Is He to Be Envid?

Just now the young man on whose slender shoulders the burden of the vast Astor possessions has suddenly descended is an object of envy to a vast number of those persons who think so superficially that they do not take into account the awful and saddening tragedy to which he owes his inheritance. There are, however, a few philosophers of the small group that constitute the substantial school of thought who know only too well that the youth upon whom so much responsibility has devolved is to be pitied rather than envied. That he will be obliged to devote the chief energies of his life to the conservation of his great property is one of the facts of his troubles. Known to the world as the head of a family whose name is synonymous with great wealth, he will find himself at an impressionable age face to face with every form of sycophancy, flattery and servile homage that the crafty human mind can devise. Doubtless he has already encountered some of this, for even college life, often cited as the stronghold of democracy, is not altogether free from it.—New York Herald.

Supervision of Private Banks

Unbiased persons are agreed that the state should closely regulate and supervise private banks. Lack of this supervision makes it possible for incompetent or unscrupulous men to pose as bankers, thus causing severe losses to confiding depositors. That is not all. Every broken bank scatters doubt broadcast, discourages the habit of saving and encourages withdrawals of accounts from sound banks. This is a dangerous influence in crippling industrial enterprises and producing hard times. Forces in Illinois are aiming to secure adequate legislation requiring state supervision of private banks.—Chicago News.

A FINE RECORD

Walter Woods May Give Up Professional Base Ball

Walter Woods of this city, now coach of the Dartmouth college nine who has been in professional base ball almost as long as any man in the business, and who holds the unique distinction of having played every position on the diamond in a single season, may quit the professional ranks this year as it is reported that he will return to this city after his duties at Hanover are over and confine his base ball activities to playing with the Sunset League. Woods was with the New England League in the early days of his professional career and then entered the National League, playing with Chicago and Louisville. After leaving the major organizations he was 15 years in the Eastern League with Jersey City and Buffalo. Last year he was with the Troy, New York State League Club.

MELLEN GROUP OF ROADS ARE UNDER INVESTIGATION

Interstate Commerce Commission Give Notice of An Inquiry Into All the Rates.

Notice of the intention of the Interstate Commerce Commission to begin an inquiry into the rates charged by the New York, New Haven & Hartford, Boston & Maine and Maine Central Railroads has just been received at the offices of these corporations. While no date has been fixed for the first session of the inquiry the expectation is that the hearings will begin in a few weeks, when several members of the commission will come to Boston.

Evidently the inquiry is to be an exhaustive one concerning the rates and facilities of the railroads in the Mellen group, for the order transmitted to the railroad companies by the secretary of the commission provides for an investigation of all the rates and the classification of the rates. While the Interstate Commerce Commission has the power to initiate any proceedings, action in this case is in response to complaints by New England shippers and manufacturers and commercial interests.

Persons whose names are not disclosed have filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission charges that the rates and classification of the rates, three railroads mentioned are "unduly preferential and prejudicial." It has been represented to the commission that the rates are so excessive that the interests of New England manufacturers have been seriously affected. Reductions and adjustments are asked for in the petition for investigation.

The men who have brought the matter to the attention of the commission would like to have the inquiry broad enough to include the

SECOND MONTH OF "HANKY PANKY"

Low Fields' All Star Company is the Great Hit of the Season at Shubert Theatre, Boston

Perhaps Low Fields' all star company in "Hanky Panky" at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, is best described as a rainbow entertainment. That is, if one will think of the possibility of rainbow as applying not only to color but to music, song, dance, comedy, travesty, and joy in general. At least it makes everything look brighter and more cheerful to those who see it, and it holds out promises of happy memories at least of having seen the show.

This stellar, spectacular, syncopated success will start on its second month, next Monday night at Shubert Theatre and the management has yet to note any lessening of the enthusiasm of the theatre goers, not only of Boston, but of New England, over its joyous.

The engagement was originally intended for less than the time it has already stayed at the Shubert theatre, but the theatre thus far has not been able to hold all who have tried to witness any performance yet given. The engagement must positively end soon, however, for "Hanky Panky" is scheduled to open a summer run in New York shortly.

If vaudeville is your hobby, or musical comedy is your chief vice the Shubert should claim your attention for at least one performance. Under one roof they have a company that numbers some of the biggest headliners in both of these classes of entertainment, cons of splendid scenery, brilliant costumes without limit, and enough pretty and shapely show girls, bonies, broilers and just plain chorus girls to camp half a dozen ordinary shows. To reduce weight, chase away the blues, forget you owe the landlord money, it's the real cure.

The stars are so numerous that they simply get in each other's way. It is only necessary to mention their names in order to appreciate the truth of these assertions. What else could be expected of such popular entertainers as: Max Rogers, Carter de Haven, Bobby North, Harry Cooper, Hugh Cameron, Vera Michelson, Myrtle Gilbert, Virginia Evans, Lewis Sisters, Montgomery and Moore?

NO DINNER FOR BRUIN

BEAR'S ANTICIPATED FEAST DID NOT MATERIALIZE.

Eagles Assumed They Had Prior Claim on Sturgeon, and in the Language of Modern Small Boy, "Made Good."

An Oregon bear who wanted a fish dinner felt that his desire was in a fair way to be satisfied when he found a large sturgeon washed up on the bank of the Columbia river. Two eagles had claimed the prize by right of discovery, but the bear at once tried to dispossess them. The results of his effort were disappointing to him.

One of the eagles had flown to her nest with pieces of the fish and the other was picking away at the remnants when the bear came tearing through the brush. Bruin walked straight up to the feast, but the eagle was not to be scared away. He flapped his wings and stood on the defensive. The bear paused a moment and then rushed at the eagle. The bird eluded him and soared into the air, screaming for his mate. She came swooping down from the nest and joined forces in an attack on the bear, which was so busy tearing the sturgeon that he paid no attention to the royal birds until they sank their talons in his flesh.

The howl of rage which bruin let out then showed that he had been "both pained and hurt." He reared up on his haunches and clawed savagely at the birds, which whirled easily about him. One would make a dash at his face and eyes, while the other would hit him in the back of the neck like a bolt from a catapult. For ten minutes or more the bear stood up to the scratch, but by that time he had had scratching enough and began to evince signs of wanting to get away.

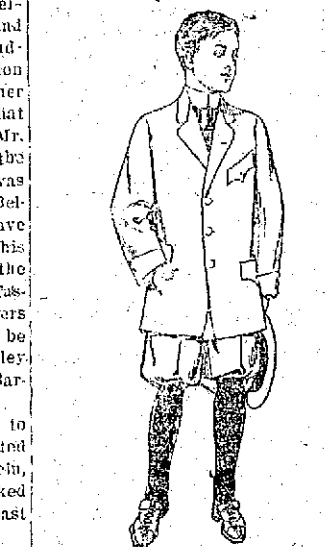

As soon as he was on all fours the eagles were upon him, and he had to get on his haunches again to use his paws effectively. The blood was streaming down his face and showing in great spots all over his glossy hide, but the object of the eagles appeared to be to get at his eyes, and he seemed fully aware of it. He was very anxious to get back to the cover of the brush, and the eagles were just as anxious to prevent him. Every time he turned toward the bushes they would plump down on his head and try to sink their talons in his eyes, and drum his ear with their strong pinions.

It was nearly half an hour from the time the bear came out of the brush before he was able to drag himself back under its friendly cover, and he was the most dilapidated-looking bear imaginable.

The eagles flew to a tree and smoothed their ruffled feathers. Then, as their young were calling for more food, they resumed their work of carving and serving the sturgeon.

Wedding Began by Romance.

A marriage took place recently, in Red Bank, N. J., which was the culmination of an odd romance. Three years ago, the bridegroom, John S. Bainton was unpacking at a clothing factory in Red Bank when he came upon a slip of paper on which was written the name of his future bride and her address. A few days later the young woman got a letter from Bainton. The return mail brought Bainton a reply. A regular correspondence was begun and soon photographs were exchanged and the couple became engaged.

A. F. Kelly of Derry, Frank J. Grimes of Dover, W. N. Neal of Meredith, Arthur P. Merrow of Freedom, William P. Ahern of Concord, John W. Center of Manchester, Oscar P. Apple of Keene, Lewis S. Record of Newport, George M. McGregor of Littleton, John H. Harriman of Strafford, committee on credentials.

Clarence E. Carr of Andover, Richard M. Scammon of Stratham, Paul Labadie of Somersworth, N. J. Dyer of Laconia, James O. Gerry of Madiscon, William H. Barry of Nashua, George H. Eames of Keene, Frank O. Clellis of Newport, Raymond B. Stevens of Landaff, Jesse F. Libby of Gorham, committee on resolutions.

Chairs for Champ Clark and Bryan. A committee appointed by the chair escorted Hon. Samuel D. Felker, the convention chairman, to the platform. The vice presidents also took seats on the platform. Mr. Felker began his address at 12 m. He reviewed the issues of the present campaign, touching largely upon National issues. He concluded as follows:

"We shall win because the times are, as James Russell Lowell says, ripe, and rotten ripe for a change. We shall win because the Republican party has confessedly failed in its trust. We shall win because we stand for curtailment of expenses, which have increased in this State threefold in five years. We shall win because we stand for giving every man an equal opportunity; we shall win because we will do everything possible to diminish the cost of living; we shall win because we deserve to win.

"We shall win either under the leadership of that broad-minded, business Governor, Judson Hammond, that brainy leader of the House of Representatives, Oscar Underwood; that educated scholar in politics who was able to accomplish so much for his State, Gov. Woodrow Wilson; that man, always a Democrat, who so gracefully presides over our National House, Champ Clark; or that conservative leader who is leader of us all and who is always true to his convictions, William J. Bryan."

Mr. Felker's reference to Champ Clark was cheered for two minutes. His reference to Bryan was applauded almost as heartily.

The committee on credentials showed that 553 delegates out of 812 entitled to sit were present. Hon. Clarence E. Carr, for the committee on resolutions, read the platform, which was adopted.

"Exposing Mutual Delinquencies." The platform as presented to the Democratic State convention favors a six-year term for the President of the United States and ineligibility for a second term. It says:

"The spectacle of two leading exponents of Republican misrepresentation exposing to public view their mutual delinquencies is a fitting climax to a line of unredeemed pledges and broken promises. The long-suffering American people have now from hitherto-sealed lips, the story of their betrayal, and faith in Republican methods is shaken to its very foundation."

SKIN TORTURED CHILDREN

The skin of infants is very liable to irritation, inflammation, chafing, cracking, roughness, prickly heat, rash, etc. No matter what the cause may be, the new remedy Cadum gives immediate relief in such troubles. It stops the irritation at once, allays the inflammation, gives the little sufferer ease and comfort, and enables it to sleep in peace. Cadum is a soothing and healing wherever the skin is inflamed or irritated, and can be used on the tender skin of infants with safety. Of druggists, 10c & 25c per box.

forly in the National House of Representatives is commended, and the Republican Administration and Senate are condemned for "blackening the efforts of the Democratic House."

The platform demands a graduated income tax, parcels post, election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, a direct primary law for the election of delegates to National conventions and revision of the anti-trust and currency laws.

Clark Scores.

After several resolutions pointing to the instructions of the New Hampshire delegates had been voted down, a resolution was adopted by a rising vote declaring the sentiment of New Hampshire Democrats to be in favor of the nomination of Speaker Champ Clark for president. It was introduced by the Hon. Henry F. Hollis. This followed a lively debate of about an hour's duration. Most of the defeated resolutions were in favor of Clark, but were not framed to meet the approval of the convention. Small of Rochester was among those who introduced resolutions which met with defeat.

The balloting began at two o'clock and it was four o'clock before the results were known owing to the large number of candidates for delegates at large.

The state committee ticket for delegates at large prevailed and the following delegates were elected:

Clarence E. Carr, Andover; John B. Jameson, Antrim; Eugene B. Read, Manchester; Henri T. LeClerc, Nashua.

First District Convention.

The first district convention was held immediately after the state convention and John R. Willis of Manchester, and Edward W. Townsend of Rollinsford were elected.

Second District Convention.

The second district convention elected as delegates: George W. McGregor of Littleton and Guy H. Cutter of Jaffrey.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The baseball diamond at the play grounds is being regraded, and the grade has been raised considerably so that it will drain very quickly; a heavy roller is now fast getting it down in shape.

The games for Memorial day here include the Elks and the Riverside's at Kittery in the morning and the Elks vs. the P. A. C. at the play ground in the afternoon.

The fans are anxious for the opening game next Monday evening.

Bill Sheridan as umpire is a good selection. He knows baseball and what is more important never gets excited.

Smoke or Ride, Which?

In the early days of the London Brighton & South Coast Railway regulations against smoking were strictly enforced. The Mechanics' Magazine of September, 1842, records that "a foreign gentleman was recently smoking a cigar in a train coming from Brighton to London. The guard warned him the practice was not allowed. Nevertheless, he continued to smoke, and finished his cigar. At the next station he was asked for his ticket and ordered out of the coupe; and the guard, addressing one of the officers on the platform, warned him that that person was not to be allowed to proceed to London by any train that night. So there he was left."—London Chronicle.

Carnegie's First Library.

When Andrew Carnegie was a mere lad in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad, he with the other boys of the old First ward, Allegheny, Pa., now the North Side, Pittsburgh, had for many years the use of the private library of a Major Anderson. Mr. Carnegie, while speaking at the installation of his libraries, often said that much of his success was due to the influence of the books obtained in this library, and that when he became wealthy the building of the Allegheny Free library was one of his first acts.

Three Days in Open Boat on Sea. Two French seaweed cutters, a man and a woman, had a trying experience recently. They had been gathering seaweed near St. Malo, off the coast of France, in a small boat and being unable to make land, remained in the English channel for three days and three nights. They eventually drifted into Plemon bay, Jersey, completely exhausted. They had had no food except a crust of bread, and were wet through and very weak.

Cats and Witchcraft.

It may be said that cats have for centuries been associated with Satan and witchcraft. Whereas in countries where wolves abounded men and women with the aid of the devil could turn themselves into wolves—it is well known that the inhabitants of Ossory, Ireland, became wolves once in seven years—the Italian women usually became cats. It is also true that when the black death ravaged Europe learned men attributed the disappearance of boots with pointed toes, which were supposed to be peculiarly offensive to the Lord.

ARE PRESSING THE REBELS

El Paso, May 14.—Gen. Huerta, commander of the federal troops, with headquarters at Conejos, recently abandoned by the rebels, today ordered an advance on the main body of the Orozco army gathered at Escalon and Itelano. These points are about 400 miles south of the American border on the Mexican Central railroad.

Advices from Huerta's camp were that the federal forces would press forward to follow up the decisive advantage gained in the fighting Sunday and that a battle may be expected early tomorrow. The rebels have had nearly 48 hours in which to recover themselves from the defeat administered by Huerta's command. Through the superiority of his artillery. Last reports from insurrecto headquarters were that Orozco was confident of holding the positions now occupied by his men in the hills of Itelano.

BOSTON BLOCKING THE EXPENDITURE OF ONE HUNDRED MILLION.

The sensation of the week in the Massachusetts legislature was the position taken by a committee from the Boston Chamber of Commerce, an organization that is supposed to be progressive and interested in building up of Boston and New England.

The Committee on Railroads of the legislature unanimously recommended and passed a bill favoring President Mellen's plan to tunnel between the North and South Stations, and other extensive improvements including a sanction of the lease of the Boston & Maine, which meant the expenditure of approximately $100,000,000, and for some unknown reason the officers of the Chamber of Commerce have objected. This is the organization that has been shouting from one end of New England to the other in favor of building up New England, patronizing and using New England products, shouting in favor of greater facilities at Boston, better docks, better railroad facilities, and yet they stop in at this hour and attempt to defeat a plan of reorganization and the expenditure of millions of dollars, which would mean the greatest boom that New England has ever had. It would also mean a carrying into effect of the plan of up-building that President Mellen has been advocating to the people of Boston for the past three or four years, which would do more for Boston than anything that has been planned for half a century. He has been in earnest and sincere in his efforts to bring Boston to the front as a great shipping port. What he has said before the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations has been endorsed throughout New England, and now comes the supposed-to-be progressive businessmen's organization, and certain of its officers.

Office of Clerk of Superior Court.

April 17, 1912.

Mamie L. Gannon vs. John J. Gannon.

In a case now pending in said court, the title of which is as above set forth, the libellant having filed in said office an amendment of her libel, the original of which amendment is on file in said office and may be examined by interested parties.

It is ordered that the said libellant give notice to the said libellee to appear at the Superior Court next to be holden at Exeter in said county, on the third Tuesday of June 1912 to show cause if any he have, why the prayer of said libel as amended should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of this citation to be published in the Portsmouth Herald, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in said county, it being the newspaper nearest the last known residence of the libellee in this state, three successive weeks, at intervals of not less than seven days the last publication to be not less than thirty days before said third Tuesday of June, 1912. It is further ordered that the publisher of said newspaper shall mail a postpaid copy thereof containing this citation addressed to John J. Gannon, Ottawa, Canada; and a like copy addressed to Daniel Dougherty, Ottawa, P. O. Canada, on the date of the first publication.

core step in the way of this long cherished building plan. The tunnel schemes proposed by Mr. Mellen would be a tremendous boon to New England, and the consistent business men of New England, who have the welfare of the growth of New England at heart, are astonished at the position taken by those few members of the Chamber of Commerce. Just what has actuated the members in making this move is a mystery. Some allege it is politics, personal spite, and even more sensational stories are in circulation. What honest objection can be raised against the plan as proposed by Mr. Mellen, which would bring millions of dollars of new capital into New England, is the mystery that New England outside of Boston would like to have cleared up.

GOLD DUST cleans like magic

Gold Dust is more than soap—does more than soap. Soap merely cleans; Gold Dust gets under the surface, kills every germ, washes out every impurity and sterilizes everything it touches.

It is a sanitary cleanser which cleans quicker and better than anything else, and saves the housewife the toil of rubbing and scrubbing.

Gold Dust does all the hard part of the work—you merely assist it.

Gold Dust is sold in 5c size and large packages. The large package means greater economy.

HORSESHOE FOR LUCK

ONE OF THE OLDEST OF ALL KNOWN SUPERSTITIONS.

Had Its Origin in the Belief in Witches—Steeds of the Greeks and Romans Were Not Shod—Japanese Use Sandals.

It is not difficult to understand why lovers of horses came to adopt the horseshoe as a talisman against misfortune. Horses were considered to be especially liable to the machinations of witches. This fact stands out in all the records of the Lancashire witches and other evil hags.

If precautions were not taken these mischievous witches would ride the horses at dead of night over the hills, and when the owner came to the stables in the morning he would find his animals in lather and utterly exhausted. A horseshoe fastened over the stable door was believed to ward off such evil.

There is no superstition more deeply ingrained in all classes of society than that which is attached to the horseshoe. As an emblem of good fortune it holds pride of place. Nelson did not disdain to nail a horseshoe to the mast of the Victory. In the early part of the nineteenth century the horseshoe was very highly prized, and there were few mansions where it was not displayed, while humble folk were at great pains to fasten it over their doors.

Horses were not shod either by the Greeks or Romans. The ancients were content with wrapping fiber cloth round the feet of their horses in cold weather, or when it was necessary to pass through milky districts. Instead of troubling about horseshoes they devoted their attention to hardening the hoofs of their mounts.

Nero, who ever strove to outdistance his contemporaries, caused his horse to be shod with silver, while his wife's were resplendent with gold, but in no case were nails driven into the hoofs. The practice of shoeing horses by driving nails into the hoofs was introduced into England by William the Conqueror, but such practice did not make any headway for centuries.

The Indians, who had no superiors as horsemen, never thought of shoeing their mounts in any way, and yet they were capable of performing remarkable journeys over most difficult terrain. The Sandown derby was won by a horse running in a natural state. The race was run twice owing to the fact that three horses made a dead heat on the first occasion. Prior to the second attempt the owner of Marden gave orders for the light plates to be removed from the hoofs of his nominees, with the result that Marden gained a comfortable victory by three lengths.

Even at the present day in Japan the modern horseshoe finds a strong competitor in the old-fashioned sandals made of straw which are fastened to the horse's hoofs after the manner of equine "cricket shoes."

Shrinking Eve's Apple.
A curious tradition of the Talmud relates that the "apple" of which Eve ate was really a kernel of wheat, which in those days grew on a wonderful tree whose trunk glowed like gold, whose branches gleamed like silver, whose twigs, resplendent as precious coral, were covered with emerald leaves, and bore globes of ivory the size and shape of the egg of an ostrich.

The story goes on to state that the hapless pair having gathered more than they could eat, were conducted by the angel Gabriel beyond the boundaries of Paradise, and given the remaining fruits of their trespass with instructions as to the proper methods of cultivating and using it. The paradisaical fruit has, however, never thriven since its banishment from Eden, and in the days of the later patriarchs had shrunk to the size of an egg, in Moses' time to the dimensions of a plum, and at the fall of the Jewish sovereignty to the size of a small grape, thereby practically assuring that the race has been eating the veritable fruit of the "tree of knowledge of good and evil" ever since.—Charles Winslow Hall, in National Magazine.

Electric Sparks in Cancer Treatment.
Recently a French specialist, Dr. De Kesting Hart, has been demonstrating what is known as the fulguration treatment of cancer, effectually preventing the recurrence of this otherwise fatal disease. The theory of the treatment is that after a malignant tumor has been removed the healthy cells that surround it are made by sparks of extremely high static electricity incapable of ever again being able to harbor and promulgate cancerous germs. At a recent demonstration Doctor Hart stood with the conductor of his machine in his hand, and as each tumor was removed he applied his treatment, sparks of great fineness but extreme brilliancy shooting from the instrument into the cavity made by the surgeon's knife. He explained that it had been discovered that these sparks were able to so change the healthy cells upon which the cancer had grown as to render their nature entirely different. This fact has been demonstrated by a microscopic examination, but, curiously enough, the sparks appear to have no effect whatever upon the diseased cells themselves. The greatest care has therefore to be taken to insure the complete extirpation of the cancer before the treatment is applied.

BLUE LIGHT AN ANESTHETIC

Eastern Scientist Has Demonstrated the Fact in a Thorough Series of Experiments.

"One of the most remarkable actions of light has recently come to our attention," says the editor of the Journal of Surgery. "In an address before the Boston Physio-Therapeutic society Dr. E. C. Titus has demonstrated that blue light possessed remarkable anesthetic power."

"In his experiments he used a series of slender glass rods about one-eighth of an inch in thickness, placed side by side and tied together so as to form a kind of flexible mat which will adapt itself to various parts of the body. The glass must be of cobalt blue and transmit no red rays, this being a very important point. The rods are to be placed upon the area to be anesthetized, and some form of white light, preferably a tungsten lamp, brought as closely as possible without causing discomfort."

"Strange to relate, in twenty minutes the part becomes insensitive, so that superficial and even deep incisions or punctures are no longer felt. This anesthetic lasts for one-half hour or more, and has occurred so constantly that there is no reason to believe that it is the result of suggestion or accident. Minor surgical operations have been performed under this method and without the least pain or discomfort, and there seems to be enough in it to merit attention."

"More than thirty years ago there prevailed what was afterwards termed the blue glass craze. All sorts of ailments were thought to be amenable to the action of blue light, and the newspapers were filled with glowing accounts of cures. Enthusiasm ran riot for a time and then the matter dropped out of sight."

"Some time later there was a revival of interest in phototherapy when Finson demonstrated the curative properties of the ultra-violet ray in various affections, especially lupus. Since then the physiological action of light has been carefully investigated and although much remains to be learned, there can be no doubt that we are nearer to an appreciation of its possibilities in the treatment of disease."

Our Life's Story.

Very often the success which attended our early efforts turns its back upon us in later years, and while for a time we may try to continue in detail the story of our alternate hopes and fears, our victories and our defeats, we soon realize that the record is too sorry one, and we feel ashamed to continue its recital. We forget the early promises we made to be sincere in the matter of making up our record, and because the story is not one of unalloyed success and prosperity we grow disloyal to our better selves and believe that by making no further entries in our diaries we bring them to a close. Just as we recall to memory in later years, however, the small volumes of our early youth, with their interrupted stories, we are prone also to look deeply into the record we have written in the real diary of life. It was Barrie who said that "the life of every man is a diary in which he means to write one story and writes another, and his humblest hour is when he compares the volume as it is with what he vowed to make it."

We cannot release ourselves from the obligation of writing the diary of our lives. We make the records whether we are willing or not, and for each hour and day of the year of life given to us here on earth there is a faithful entry made.—Charleston News and Courier.

British Island Reclaimed by Dutch.

Canvey Island, which is again coming into prominence in connection with the proposal to establish a great wharf there, is one of the pieces of England which were reclaimed for us by the Dutch. At one period the island was covered with water at high tide, but early in the seventeenth century Cornelius Vermuyden, the famous Dutch engineer, who was afterward knighted by Charles I, reclaimed several thousand acres by the construction of a system of seawalls. The walls are still there, but where are the Dutchmen who made them? Cornelius Vermuyden brought over workmen from Holland and many are known to have stayed here, but now their names have disappeared entirely, from Canvey at least.—Westminster Gazette.

The Aftermath.
The great ball, had been given, and Mrs. Noovo was running over the hills with her husband. When it was found that they totaled $10,000 Mr. Noovo winced.

"By ginger, Maria!" he ejaculated, "ten thousand dollars is a pile of money."

"We have to do it, Silas, to get into society," replied Mrs. Noovo.

"Well," said the old man, scratching his head, "judgin' from results it don't seem to me that we're gettin' into society quite so much as society is gettin' into us."—Harper's Weekly.

Boy Got the Penny.
At a country school in the Midlands the head master said: "Now, boys, I will give a penny to the first lad who can ask me a question which I cannot answer."

Several tried unsuccessfully, until one boy asked him: "Please, sir, if you stood up to your neck in soft mud and I threw a stone at your head, would you duck?"

The question remained unanswered.—Ideas.

The Cabman and the Bishop.
It is not often that a cabman has any chance of influencing ecclesiastical appointments, but Dr. Browne points to such an occasion. When he was Bishop of Stepney he was once dismissing a hansom at Amen Court when the driver said: "That's an uncommon nice young man you've sent to take charge of the church in square. If ever you have the chance to put him in a bigger job he'll do it well." A little later the Bishop did find and did use an opportunity to put the clergyman into a better job, and the cabman's words were justified, for he did it very well indeed. Moreover, Dr. Browne has been known to remark, "There is no doubt what the cabman said did really influence me."—London Tit-Bits.

Woman's Act of Fanaticism.
At the recent unveiling of a monument to a local lawyer in the church at Valentano, Italy, a number of people who do not approve of the erection of the monument collected about, shouting and whistling. One old woman, with a knife in her hand, attempted to cut down the cloth, covering the monument, but she was dragged away and disarmed by a man in the crowd. Another woman, with a bundle of lighted straw, tried to set fire to the boarding which provisionally surrounded the monument. Fortunately she did not succeed, or the crowd would have been roasted to death, as the church has only one door which would have been blocked in the resulting panic and stampede.

Dog's Vigil Over Master's Body.
For nearly two weeks a dog has stood guard over a camp on the Shaw ranch, northwest of here, near Butte creek, although no person has been seen about the place. Attracted by the loneliness of the animal's vigil, passersby attempted to investigate the camp, but were repulsed by the four footed guardian. Crossing the creek they came down close to the camp and saw the body of a man floating in the water on the camp side of the stream. The dog, gaunt from lack of food, stood on the banks above it, dejectedly to cross. The body is believed to be that of the dog's master.—Butte Miner.

Cabbage Cigars a Reality.

There would seem to be no end to the things that can be smoked, though many of them can hardly be commended as substitutes for tobacco. Reports from the commissioners of inland revenue show that tobacco can be adulterated with things as far apart as molasses and lampblack. Licorice and gum apparently smoke well, and so do such leaves as rhubarb, cabbage and chicory. Then there are honey, moss and treacle, to say nothing of seaweed and powdered wood.

TRICKS PLAYED BY DYNAMITE

Dangerous Stuff to Handle at All Times—Accidents Often Result of Carelessness.

"It is generally supposed that when a charge of dynamite has exploded it is all over—that the entire charge has been consumed," said a "hard rock" man who has worked in mines, in river tunnels and other places where high explosives are used. "This supposition, however, is not correct," he continued. "Sometimes particles of dynamite will be blown out with the broken rock. Then it becomes a menace to the workmen. It is a favorite practice of men who are waiting or resting to sit on a pile of 'muck' as the broken rock is called, and to jab into it with a pick or a candlestick or some other steel thing, much the same as a Yankee will whistle while he talks or thinks. If the steel strikes one of these bits of dynamite that has not gone off, because the glycerine in it has started to run or because a fragment of it has been crystallized, there will be an explosion. The chances are that not one out of the group of men sitting around will escape injury."

"Another frequent cause of accidents is that sometimes when the dynamite explodes and tears out the rock a small quantity of it will be left in the bottom of the drill hole, unaffected by the shock. If the drill hole that remains happens to be pointed in the right direction a lazy drill runner is likely to take advantage of it and start his new hole in the old one in order to make a record or save time. The instant his drill commences to thud on the unexploded dynamite it goes off. The steel is driven back through the barrel of the machine, wrecking it and usually killing the drill runner. This explains many mysterious deaths that have been attributed to 'missed shots.' These accidents are more frequent in New York, where more dynamite is used in building operations than anywhere else in the United States, because the men who handle the explosives there are not so well acquainted with its peculiarities as they are in the mining camps."

It Looks Easy.
There were a couple of men on the car who were abusing the rich in a general way, when the man in the corner spoke up and said:

"It's entirely your fault that you are not rich men yourselves. If others have taken advantage of the opportunities you have neglected they are not to be blamed."

"Where in blazes have been our opportunities?" demanded one of the pair.

"Have you dug a hole in the ground and advertised it as an oil well?"

"No."

"You might have made a million apiece out of it. Ever wash a bar of brass over and sell it for a gold brick?"

"Of course not!"

"Ten thousand dollars a year are made at it, and you run no risk whatever. It's a profession that is looked up to these days. How about the 'green goods business'?"

"Do you mean to insult us, sir?"

"Not at all. I'm simply showing you how to get rich. Ever go into a merger?"

"No, sir."

"Simplest thing in the world. You merge with the other fellow and he has nothing and you have it all after a bit. An industrious man can lay the foundation of a fortune by highway robbery, and if you divvy with a politician you are safer than winning at poker in a mixed crowd. Gentlemen, all around you are golden opportunities awaiting you, and—"

But they had to leave the car at that corner, and the rich man had no more to say.

TWO'S REMARKABLE RESEMBLANCE.

Solomon himself, in all his wisdom would have been puzzled in giving judgment in a case in a London (Eng.) suburban court the other day, involving the identity of twins. A youth named Ebenezer Albert Fox was summoned for entering land with a gun for the purpose of taking pheasants. Ebenezer Albert, however, asserted that there had been a mistake in identity, and that the real offender was Albert Ebenezer, his twin brother. The magistrate adjourned the case to establish identity. Albert Ebenezer, when brought before the court, said his own father did not know himself and his brother apart, and for years tied a piece of blue ribbon on one and a piece of red ribbon on the other, to know the difference. Albert Ebenezer was fined $10, and Ebenezer Albert left the court without a stain on his character.

Music Makes for Refinement.
Music is a noble art; one which uplifts the sentiments and elevates the mind. There are phases of it which are calculated to amuse and entertain, as there are in the other arts. But the main tendency is for the better. It touches deep emotions and refines delicate shades of feeling. The person who loves good music is usually of a superior nature. Shakespeare has put it somewhat strongly when he says: "The man that hath no music in himself, nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds, is fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils. . . . Let no such man be trusted." So the cultivation of good taste is as much of a necessity on the part of the teacher as is the cultivation of the fingers. That this is being realized by the majority of our best musicians is proved by the great advance made in the places now taught over those taught twenty-five or thirty years ago.

STATE ROAD TO BE BUILT

The work building the state road from the end of Miller avenue to the city line on the Sagamore road will be started this morning. The work will be under the direction of Engineer Grover, who is the district engineer under State Engineer S. P. Hooker.

The road will be laid in macadam with an oil binder, like that on the Newington line.

The road is 7000 feet long and it is estimated that it will take about five weeks, so that the road will be ready for travel before the summer season opens.
